

Vivien Searcy

American singer Vivien Searcy grew up in a musical home with both her parents being professional musicians. She moved to Stockholm, Sweden in 1995 to find inspiration and deepen her music studies.

Spring 2002 Vivien was discovered during an audition by music producer Patricia Viguurs. Impressed by Vivien's qualities, Patricia decided to take charge of Vivien's career and offered her to record an album under Patricia's record label Ragdoll Production.

Since then Vivien has become a well known name in the Swedish country scene. Together with her Swedish band The Ozarks Vivien appears at pop- and country festivals in both Norway and Sweden with great public response and critical acclaim.

Vivien won STIM's song writing competition "SAMI Awards" in 2001. (STIM = National Association of Composers) March 2003 Vivien won the final of the Swedish national talent competition "Schlagerstar 2003". The competition was organized by daily newspaper Expressen and record company Mariann Grammfon.

January 12th 2006 is the Scandinavian release date for the debut single "Another Rainy Day", a duet with Swedish pop star Mathias Holmgren (Grammy nominee 2005 & 2006).

The single "Another Rainy Day" is air played by numerous SR P4 radio stations all over the country, as well as internet radio stations like Spraydio.com and private radio channels in Sweden.

The Netherlands welcomed "Another Rainy Day" at radio stations like Nashville FM, Waterland FM, RTV Noord, RTV Drenthe, RTV Oost, Omroep Friesland and Omroep Brabant with great response.

The Dutch even opened a Vivien Searcy Fan Page on the internet in Vivien's honour.

New release:

Maj/June 2006 the maxi single "Guitarman", written by Vivien Searcy and Andreas Rydman will be released, containing a Radio Edit and a fresh Remix. This very song got rewarded in its demo version back in 2003 as Vivien Searcy won the Swedish national talent show "Schlagerstjärna 2003".

The music video "Guitarman" is available for TV broadcasting.

"Guitarman" represents the material on the forthcoming debut album "Water On Soil" that will be released Fall 2006.
